

HUMANITARIAN SITUATION

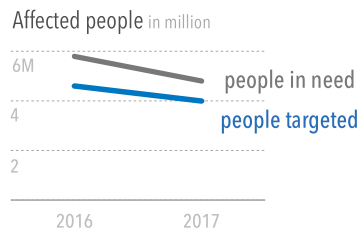

Sudan continues to confront significant humanitarian needs with 4.8 million people requiring assistance, inclusive of 2.3 million people internally displaced, 3.6 million people facing food insecurity, and 2.2 million children suffering from acute malnutrition. More than 182,000 South Sudanese refugees have arrived in 2017 beyond projections. Eased restrictions on operations has improved access in Darfur and Government parts of the Two Areas. New areas in Jebel Marra, South Kordofan and Blue Nile are opening to humanitarian access which will require increased response.
